

Technical drawing of a circular component, likely a cable reel or a similar mechanical part. The drawing shows a top-down view with a central circular hole. The outer diameter is indicated as $\varnothing 100$. The component has a cable attached to its left side, which is shown in a bent position. The drawing includes dimension lines and a scale bar.